Due: Friday, the last day.

Objective:

Students will research a specific heritage and gain knowledge. (food, clothing, where they are from, how they got to Wisconsin or US and a fun fact)

Standards:

A.8.7. Describe movement of people, ideas, diseases, products throughout the world
B.4.1. Identify and examine sources of information used to construct understanding of past

Materials:

Books

- "My First Book of Polish Words" by Katy R. Kudela
- "Swedish Christmas Traditions" by Ernst Kirchsteiger
- "Polish Americans" by Dale Anderson
- "Germany and the Germans" by Anita Ganeri

Computers

Introduction:

Tell the students about this project and explain to them that I want them to do what is expected.

Procedures:

Students will be paired up with another student. Students will be in the library or computer lab to do research on a heritage group that they choose. Then they will put it on a power point template that I will have made for them. On the Friday that everything is due, they will be presenting their power points with their partners to the class.

Accommodations:

Students with either a problem or an exceptionality can be paired with someone who understands the project thoroughly or they can be paired with an aide.

Assessment:

Students will be assessed by their power points.
